LOWER COURT AT RENO IS REVERSED

NEW TRIAL IN DAMAGE CASE
BROUGHT AGAINST THE
BELMONT COMPANY

The supreme court in the decision handed down Saturday has reversed the decision of the district court at Reno, and set aside the verdict of the jury in the case of Peter Zelavins, plaintiff, vs. Tonopah Belmont Development company, defendant.

In July, 1912, the plaintiff met with an accident in the Belmont mine in Tonopah. The plaintiff was operating a machine drill on the 1200-foot level and a piece of rock fell from the roof of the working, striking plaintiff's arm, cutting a gash and severing the nerve controlling the extensor muscles of the right arm. Dr. O'Neill, then located in Tonopah, was called for first aid, and Dr. McLeod later took the case. It seems, however, that the nerve was not properly sutured, and the plaintiff alleged that he was permanently crippled in the right arm and brought suit against the Tonopah Belmont Development company for something over $76,000.

The case was tried before a jury in the district court at Reno, and after a lengthy trial, a verdict was rendered in favor of the plaintiff for $65,000. A motion for a new trial was made and denied by the court and an appeal

Three Companies Ship Bullion

Three Tonopah companies shipped bullion yesterday and today. The Tonopah Extension sent out 52 bars, weighing 102,095 ounces, valued at $58,000, also 30 tons of concentrates worth $350 a ton, or $10,500, making a total of $68,500 for the latter half of May. The Tonopah Mining company sent out 29 bars, weighing 3500 pounds, or 56,000 ounces, worth about $30,000. The cleanup was for the last third of May. The Tonopah Belmont Development company yesterday shipped bullion for the latter half of May, but the figures on the consignment are not yet checked up.

ASKS THAT TONOPAH BE REPRESENTED

SUGGESTION THAT YOUNG LADY
FROM THIS CITY TAKE PART IN CARSON PARADE

Miss A. H. Martin, chairman of the Goddess of Liberty committee for the Fourth of July celebration at Carson City, writes to J. E. Monahan that the committee would be greatly pleased to have Tonopah represented in the Car of Nevada float in the parade there. She says: "If Tonopah will send one of her pretty young ladies to represent the town, having her dressed to represent the resources of the town or county, it will be a most noticeable feature of the parade, and furthermore it will advertise that section of the state better than anything else as we expect to have a large crowd of strangers with us on that day."

MUST NOW FACE A CHARGE OF MURDER

JESUS COSTELLO TALKS FREELY,
EVEN KNOWING HIS VICTIM
HAS DIED

Sallie, the squaw who was assaulted with an axe by Jesus Costello, a Mexican, ten days ago, died Saturday afternoon at the county hospital as a result of her injuries and was buried Sunday. Her assailant, who was arrested at Las Vegas, was brought to Tonopah Saturday evening and placed in the county jail. In conversation with Sheriff Slavin he freely admitted killing the Indian woman. He said that he had lived with her in the cabin where the deed was committed for a long time.

Costello says that the woman angered him by disobeying him and by drinking too much. He says that he would give her money to buy clothes for her daughter and she would purchase whisky with it. He said she was intoxicated on the day when he killed her and that she threatened him with the axe, which he took from her and struck her over the head with it after which he locked her in the cabin and fled to the hills, stealing a horse at McKinney's tanks and a saddle at Silver Bow, which he rode to Indian Springs, about 15 miles this side of Las Vegas.

GERMAN NOTE WILL BE CONSIDERED TOMORROW

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, June 7.—Counselor Lansing said that the note to Germany will not go tonight. It is understood it will go before the cabinet again tomorrow.

The supreme court, in the decision just handed down, reverses the decision of the district court at Reno, and remands the case for a new trial. The grounds for the reversal are not known, as all that was received was a telegram from the clerk to Mr. Cooke, one of the attorneys for the mining company.

Hugh H. Brown, J. H. Evans and H. R. Cooke represented the Tonopah Belmont Development company, and the legal firm of Miller & Dixon at Reno were attorneys for the plaintiff.

THIRTEEN MILLION FACING FAMINE

(By Associated Press.)
MEXICO CITY, June 7.—The so-called national convention of the chamber of deputies was today the scene of the wildest disorder in not only the galleries, but at times the floor. The speaker's tribune has been rushed by hordes of hungry men, women and children. Shouts of "we want corn" drowned all others. Even the display of bayonets and firing by the soldiers over the heads of the people failed to check their vain search for food. It is estimated that out of a crowd in one day of ten thousand, three hundred women, children and old men were carried away on stretchers by the Red Cross. Crops are everywhere short. It is estimated that unless relief comes from the outside, more than thirteen million people will be in danger of starvation.
